MDPIM Emerging Markets Equity Pool

Management Report of Fund Performance (December 31, 2025)

Investment Objectives and Strategies

The MDPIM Emerging Markets Equity Pool (the “Fund”) seeks to achieve long-term growth of capital by investing in a diversified portfolio of primarily emerging market equity securities.

The Fund employs a multi-manager approach which seeks to deliver excess returns compared to the benchmark and to provide diversification by avoiding overconcentration in any single style, sector or market trend. Fund assets are allocated to a combination of the investment advisers for the Fund, based on the Manager’s assessment of the investment advisers’ skills, the predicted capital market environment, and the anticipated risk inherent in each investment adviser’s strategy.

The Fund may not invest in companies that manufacture tobacco or tobacco-related products or cannabis or cannabis related products.

Risk

At times, a portfolio can be subject to any number of investment risks. The risk level of the Fund did not change significantly during the year. Descriptions of the investment risks associated with this Fund are detailed in the Simplified Prospectus.

Results of Operations

For the period ended December 31, 2025, the Fund had total returns of 25.4% (Series A), 25.9% (Series I), 24.2% (Series D), and 24.8% (Series F).

Emerging market equities advanced over the 12-month period as the MSCI Emerging Markets Index (C$) returned 28.0%. The first half 2025 witnessed President Trump introduce tariffs to the world and saw investors shift their focus and assets to international markets as U.S. equities whipsawed from positive to negative back to positive territory. The sentiment was this would send inflation and interest rates up, weaken consumer and business confidence and trigger a recession.

However, President Trump did eventually dial back the tariffs from his initial proposal and the economic fears never materialized. As concerns faded, investors shifted gears into a risk on sentiment in the second half.

While inflation concerns remain elevated, fears of a tariff-driven price spike similar to 2022 proved unfounded and central banks were able to continue normalizing interest rates.

East Asian growth remained solid. China hit its GDP target with roughly 5% growth, with services and advanced manufacturing leading and offsetting the property sector stress and weak domestic demand. As well, Korea and Taiwan’s economies performed well as they benefited from strong semiconductor exports as these markets are beneficiaries of the AI and data center build out.

Elsewhere in Asia, India remains the fastest growing emerging market with 2025 GDP growth estimated in the 6.6-7% range, as it benefits from strong domestic demand and investments in infrastructure and manufacturing.

Latin America, was also well supported economically, with improving growth prospects in Mexico and Brazil, as growth and inflation normalize and consumption remains solid. This region faces good demographics but higher political uncertainty.

Precious metals were the standout asset class for the period. Gold dominated the headlines as international central banks continued to diversify their reserve holdings into the precious metal, and this supported markets such as South Africa.

The Fund’s regional allocations were mostly focused in East Asia, China, Taiwan and Korea which represent just under 50% of the Fund on average over the period. The next largest market allocations are to India and Brazil which combined were nearly 20% on average for the period. The remaining country allocations in the Fund are split across the remaining emerging markets as well as select multi-nationals that derive a significant part of their revenue from emerging markets. In terms of contribution to return, Korea, China and Taiwan were the strongest positive contributors to return due to strong returns and significant weights. India was the only market to have a materially negative contribution to return. Currency was detractor from return due primarily to weakness of currencies pegged to the U.S., most notably the Hong Kong dollar but also the gulf coast countries. The Indian rupee, Korean won and Taiwanese dollar were also weak versus Canadian dollars.

Ten of the 11 sectors represented in the portfolio contributed positively to the Fund’s return in Canadian dollar terms. Information Technology, Financials and Consumer Discretionary were the biggest positive contributors to return due to their large weight and strong returns. Energy was the only sector to have a negative contribution to return for the period.

The Fund’s active multi-manager structure combines complementary investment approaches. The Fund is actively managed and positions will change based on relative opportunities. Over the year, the weight to Korea increased, in part due to very strong performance, while the weight of multinationals was reduced.

As at December 31, 2025, the total net asset value of the Fund was $2.43 billion, an increase of 14% since the beginning of the year. The increase is due to net investment gain, offset by net redemptions and income distributions to unitholders.

INDEPENDENT REVIEW COMMITTEE

The Manager has established an independent review committee (the “IRC”) in accordance with National Instrument 81-107 – Independent Review Committee for Investment Funds (“NI 81-107”) with a mandate to review and provide recommendations or approval, as required, on conflict of interest matters referred to it by the Manager on behalf of the Fund. The IRC is responsible for overseeing the Manager’s decisions in situations where the Manager is faced with any present or perceived conflicts of interest, all in accordance with NI 81-107.

The IRC may also approve certain mergers between the Fund and other funds and any change of the auditor of the Fund. Subject to any corporate and securities law requirements, no securityholder approval will be obtained in such circumstances, but you will be sent a written notice at least 60 days before the effective date of any such transaction or change of auditor. In certain circumstances, securityholder approval may be required to approve certain mergers.

The IRC has four members: Stephen J. Griggs (Chair), Heather A.T. Hunter, Cecilia Mo and Steven Donald each of whom is independent of the Manager.

The IRC prepares and files a report to the securityholders each fiscal year that describes the IRC and its activities for securityholders, as well as contains a complete list of the standing instructions. These standing instructions enable the Manager to act in a particular conflict of interest matter on a continuing basis provided the Manager complies with its policies and procedures established to address that conflict of interest matter and reports periodically to the IRC on the matter. This report to the securityholders is available on the Manager’s website or, at no cost, by contacting the Manager.

The compensation and other reasonable expenses of the IRC will be paid out of the assets of the Fund as well as out of the assets of the other investment funds for which the IRC may act as the independent review committee. The compensation for the IRC is an annual flat fee. Expenses of the IRC may include premiums for insurance coverage, travel expenses and reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

The Manager is required to advise the IRC of any breach of a condition of any standing instructions. The standing instructions require, among other things, that the investment decision in respect to a related party transaction: (a) is made by the Manager free from any influence by an entity related to the Manager and without taking into account any consideration to any associate or affiliate of the Manager; (b) represents the business judgment of the Manager uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund; and (c) is made in compliance with the Manager’s written policies and procedures. Transactions made by the Manager under the standing instructions are subsequently reviewed by the IRC to monitor compliance.

The Manager, in respect of its management of the Fund relied on IRC standing instructions regarding related party transactions as set out below:

- Paying brokerage commissions and spreads to a related party for effecting security transactions on a principal basis on behalf of the Fund;
- Investments in the securities of issuers for which a related underwriter acted as an underwriter during the distribution of such securities and the 60-day period following the completion of such distribution;
- Purchases of securities of a related party;
- Investment Advisor Monitoring and Oversight

Management Fees

MD Financial Management Inc. provides the Fund with management and administrative services. No management fee is charged in respect of units of the Fund. Investors in these units have agreed to pay a managed account fee directly to MD Financial Management Inc.

Past Performance

The following bar chart shows the Fund’s annual performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund’s performance changed from year to year. The chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each calendar year would have grown or decreased by the last day of each calendar year.

The performance information assumes that all distributions made by the Fund were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or other optional charges that would reduce returns. How the Fund has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how the Fund will perform in the future.

† The Fund started series F units on June 25, 2018.

‡ The Fund started series D units on June 25, 2018.

Management uses the MSCI Emerging Markets Index as the benchmark for this Fund because it represents the aggregate returns of securities listed on exchanges in emerging markets as defined by MSCI. Although index returns are hypothetical – as they do not reflect the true cost of owning or managing the underlying stocks – they are one of several useful indicators. By comparing the Fund's performance to the movements of the benchmark, we are able to assess how the Fund is doing. For example, some short-term deviations can signal the need for change while others confirm the expectations of a longer-term strategy. If management were to ascertain that a fund's over- or underperformance was the result of excessive risk-taking or deviation from the investment mandate, we would, on behalf of all our unitholders, address these issues with the Investment Adviser and make changes if necessary.

The Fund underperformed over the most recent one-year period. Headwinds to benchmark relative performance included an underweight to select Materials, especially precious metals, and stock selection within Information Technology, Industrials, Real Estate and Communication Services. The Fund outperformed over the past three-years due to strong stock selection within India, Taiwan and Korea among others. However the five-year and ten-year periods continue to suffer from the impact of having been overweight to Russia prior to the war in Ukraine in 2022. These positions were written down to zero as they became untradeable following the invasion of Ukraine by Russia.

² The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on total expenses for the stated period (excluding commissions, withholding taxes and other portfolio transaction costs) and the Fund's proportionate share of the MER, if applicable, of exchange traded funds ("ETFs") in which the Fund has invested, expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period.

⁴ The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.
